

Abstract:

A method for disinfecting turbid liquids which includes reducing liquid opacity by diffusing the turbid liquid and exposing the liquid to a source of UV radiation for a time sufficient to disinfect and/or sterilize the liquid. The diffusion may be accomplished by aerating, agitation, misting or atomizing the turbid water.